Bits & Pieces

President — HCC

Dr. Clyde Muse

President's Message

After the national tragedy of September 11, 2001, many Americans have developed "a new perspective" on life. They cherish their families even more, enjoy leisure time with friends, and also consider how important the most minute contribution to society can be.

I hope all associated with Hinds Community College — students, employees, and alumni — have a heightened understanding of how education affects us. With education, lives are improved and communities are made better.

On the HCC Utica Campus, students are learning in a comprehensive two-year college environment where there are opportunities for classroom study, as well as activities for the development of the whole person. Students can choose from academic, technical, and career programs which develop them intellectually, while also participating in organizations and other groups that develop them socially, physically, morally, and spiritually.

Such special programs as the annual Teacher Education Conference are addressing current needs for educating more people to become elementary and secondary instructors in our state. Without projects like this, we will continue to lose teachers to other professions and other states.

Through the Student Leadership Conference, pupils learn how to become pacesetters in their jobs and communities, while also learning to develop skills that can secure economic security for themselves and their neighborhoods.

Also, the annual Child Care Conference brings together Utica Campus students and professionals to discuss early childhood development. Students are provided with the latest information on child care programs, research, and regulations.

While it is definitely the main goal of Hinds Community College to provide quality academic, technical, and career education to students in a classroom setting, it also is a major objective to enhance abilities that cultivate well-rounded individuals.

This has never been more important than in today's society, and Hinds will continue to offer these opportunities and work to increase everyone's chance for living a better tomorrow.

Vice President — Utica Campus

Dr. George & Mrs. Doris Barnes

To The Utica Campus Family:

This unique collection of images and words epitomizes the setting for learning and developing positive experiences on our campus. Furthermore, this volume typifies the strong lifeline that blends each department and activity into a profound portrait. Throughout the year, these actions and reactions reflect the interfusion of events that give us an inventory of achievements and progress. Therefore, to restate these outcomes and aspirations, the Uticanite presents a tangible survey of their impact. Some scenes may capture memories that are as serious as well as comical, but, nevertheless, show us who we really are.

In addition, an educational institution needs a visual as well as a written account of its endeavors and accomplishments. Since our annual focuses on the attributes and traits that mold us, we have a composite view of our students and impressions from the various communities.

Also, this treasure of pictures shows us the dimensions of college experiences and serves as a timeline for our future. Included with these pages are the gems of the 2001-2002 academic year along with their luster and splendor.

Despite the horrific tragedies that we as a country have heroically encountered, this representation takes a look at how we have survived and coped with the world changes that will be forever with us.

Finally, special appreciation is extended to the staff and advisors for preserving our initiatives of hard work and contributions of investment into education. As we observe each picture on each page, we carefully weave an intricate scene that denotes the theme of "A New Perspective."

Respectfully yours,

George E. Barnes

The Annual Staff

A NEW PERSPECTIVE

I really enjoyed working on the yearbook. It has been an experience in which I will never forget. I truly appreciate the learning experience I acquired from Ms. Ealey. Her wisdom guided me in more ways than one. I would like to thank all of my Uticanite family and friends. The staff tried to compile a yearbook representative of the entire Utica Campus family. I only hope that our efforts are appreciated.
